

Co-Sponsored by the Center for Collegiate Mental Health (CCMH) &
Center for Counseling and Psychological Services at The Pennsylvania State University

“Applications of An Ethical Perspective to Contemporary Issues”

Samuel Knapp, Ed.D., ABPP

November 25, 2024

12:00pm-3:00pm EST

Live, online training provided via Zoom

Register here

Learning Objectives: Upon completion of this program participants will be able to...

1. Identify overarching ethical principles and their application to psychotherapy.
2. Describe how an ethical perspective can help psychotherapists improve their treatment of suicidal patients.
3. Describe how an ethical perspective can guide the work of psychotherapists working with patients with divergent worldviews.

Instruction Level: Intermediate

Cost Information: This event is presented without charge to all participants. Registration is limited and available on a first-come, first-serve basis.

The Pennsylvania State University, Center for Counseling and Psychological Services is approved by the American Psychological Association to sponsor continuing education for psychologists. The Pennsylvania State University, Center for Counseling and Psychological Services maintains responsibility for this program and its content.

The Pennsylvania State University, Center for Counseling and Psychological Services designates this educational activity for a maximum of 3 continuing education (CE) credits for psychologists. Full attendance at the event is required to receive CE credit for psychologists. Partial credit will not be awarded. Late arrivals or early departures will preclude awarding of CE credits. Please contact ccmhevents@psu.edu with questions.

This will be a live event, and a recording will not be available. Technology support will not be available during this event. Please contact your local tech support for any technology related issues that may arise during the course of the event.

All presenters participating in continuing education activities sponsored by The Pennsylvania State University, Center for Counseling and Psychological Services are expected to disclose to the activity audience any real or apparent conflict(s) of interest related to the content of their presentation(s). Full disclosure of a presenter's relationships will be made at the activity. The presenter of this event Does Not have a financial interest/relationship with the manufacturer(s) of any healthcare-related commercial product(s) and/or provider(s) of commercial services discussed in this educational presentation.

This publication is available in alternative media on request. Penn State is an equal opportunity, affirmative action employer, and is committed to providing employment opportunities to all qualified applicants without regard to race, color, religion, age, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national origin, disability or protected veteran status.